Message from the Board

To all shareholders,

Once again that the Company Board of Directors has the opportunity to inform our shareholders on the turnovers and the company's financial status for the year 2014. Our revenue derived from goods sales was 1,693 million Baht, increased from last year in the amount of 266 million Baht or 19%, accounting for the total export sales of 81% of the gross sales. Combined with the other revenues, brings the total revenues was 1,753 million Baht.

The world economic crisis situation being slowed down in the past several years has a trend of a gradual recovery, yet a slow recovery, thus, quantity of the Company's goods demands in foreign markets has still been affected consequently resulting in the Company's business expansion to be affected as well. Notwithstanding to the foregoing, the Company has firmly determined to develop and carry on deliberate administration work to the extent of increasing the revenue from the preceding year derived from both international and domestic sales.

Although the Company could increase the revenues, the consequence of the organizational restructuring to cope with the continuously increasing costs in order to increase the organization's efficiency, create the profits and expand the business in the long term which had been carried over since 2013 continuously until early 2014, has still been affected in term of the turnovers, thus, resulting in the Company to be faced with the deficit in the first half of 2014 in the amount of 55 million Baht. However, the Company could generate the profits in the second half of the year in the amount of 46 million Baht. Nevertheless, on the overall turnovers of 2014, the Company still sustained the loss of 9 million Baht.

Finally, on behalf of the board, I would like to thank all shareholders to the support that you have given to the company. We would like to take this opportunity to thank all executives and employees who have always been a part of our success. All of you can be assured that the board will do the best to supervise and to take care of the company operation and to further improve the potential of our operation so that our business will be strong, stable and successful according to our goal to maintain the status of market leader forever.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Shareholders of Royal Porcelain Public Company Limited

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of Royal Porcelain Public Company Limited, which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2014, and the statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that I comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Royal Porcelain Public Company Limited as at December 31, 2014, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards.

Emphases of Matter

I draw attention to Note 13 to the financial statements, as at December 31, 2014, the Company could not maintain certain financial ratios in accordance with the long-term loan agreement, which resulted in the loan becoming payable on demand. However, on December 30, 2014, the Company received the waiver letter for such non-compliance from the lender. The classification of such loan to be liability is in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. However, my opinion is not modified in respect of the matter emphasized.

Basis of Financial Statement Preparation

The statutory financial statements are prepared in Thai Baht and in the Thai language in conformity with Thai Financial Reporting Standards. Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements are intended solely to present the financial position, financial performance and cash flows in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards.

The accompanying financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention except where otherwise disclosed in the accounting policies.

For convenience of the readers, an English translation of the financial statements has been prepared from the Thai language statutory financial statements, which are issued solely for domestic financial reporting purposes.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash on hand is kept for general use purpose within the Company. Cash equivalents are savings deposits and current accounts, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amount of cash that are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

Accounts Receivable and Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

Accounts receivable are stated at invoice amount net of allowance for doubtful accounts.

The Company provides an allowance for doubtful accounts equal to the estimated collection losses that may be incurred in the collection of all receivables. The estimated losses are based on historical collection experience and analysis of debt aging.

Inventory Valuation

The Company values its inventories at the lower of cost and net realizable value, by using the following methods:

- Finished goods, work-in-process, raw materials and store supplies - at average cost method
- Saggars - at cost method and the Company amortizes its saggars upon issuance on a straight-line basis over a period 10 months.

Cost comprises all costs of purchase, costs of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. In the case of manufactured inventories and work-in-process, cost includes an appropriate share of overheads based on normal operating capacity.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and selling expenses.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Land is stated at cost. Plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. When assets are sold or retired, their cost and accumulated depreciations are eliminated from the accounts and any gain or loss resulting from their disposal is included in the statement of comprehensive income.

Depreciation

Depreciation of plant and equipment is calculated by reference to their costs on a straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives:

	Years
Buildings and structures	20
Machinery and equipment	10
Furniture, fixtures and office equipment	5
Vehicles	5

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets that are acquired by the Company are stated at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment losses.

Amortization is charged to the statement of comprehensive income on a straight-line basis from the date that intangible assets are available for use over the estimated useful lives of the assets, unless such lives are indefinite. Intangible assets with an indefinite useful life are not amortized but are systematically tested for impairment at each statement of financial position date. The estimated useful lives are as follows:

	Years
Software licenses	3, 5

Leasehold Rights

Leasehold rights are amortized on the straight-line basis over the lease period of 10 years.

Impairment of Assets

The Company reviews the impairment of assets whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the recoverable amount (the higher of asset's selling price or value in use) of assets is below the carrying amount. The review is made for individual assets or for the cash-generating unit.

If the carrying value of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the Company recognizes the impairment losses by reducing the carrying value of the asset to its recoverable amount and recording the devaluation in statements of comprehensive income or reducing revaluation increment in assets in case that those assets were previously revalued. The reversal of impairment losses recognized in prior years is recorded as part of other income or as a revaluation increment in assets when there is an indication that the impairment losses recognized for the assets no longer exist or are decreased. Such a reversal should not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of the associated depreciation or amortization).

Provision

A provision is recognized when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of a past event and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate of the amount can be made. A provision is reviewed at the statement of financial position date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. Where the effect of the time value of money is material, the amount of a provision is the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation.

Provision for Employee Retirement Benefit

The Company's employee retirement benefit obligation is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods by the projected unit credit method determined by a professionally qualified independent actuary. The projected unit credit method considers each period of service as giving rise to an additional unit of benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation. Past service costs are recognized on a straight-line basis over the average period until the amended benefits become vested. Gains or losses on the curtailment or settlement of pension benefits are recognized when the curtailment or settlement occurs. Actuarial gains or losses are recognized immediately to the statement of income. The defined benefit obligations are measured at the present value of estimated future cash flows using a discount rate that is similar to the government bonds.

For the first-time adoption of TAS 19 "Employee Benefits", the Company elected to recognize the transitional liability, which exceeds the liability that would have been recognized at the same date under the previous accounting policy, as an expense on a straight-line basis over 5 years from the date of adoption (January 1, 2011).

Use of Estimates

In order to prepare financial statements in conformity with Thai Financial Reporting Standards, the management needs to make estimates and set assumptions that affect income, expenditure, assets and liabilities in order to disclose information on the valuation of assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities. Actual outcomes may, therefore, differ from the estimates used.

The estimates and underlying assumptions used in the preparation of these financial statements are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized in the statement of comprehensive income when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the buyer. No revenue is recognized if there are significant uncertainties regarding recovery of the condition due, associated costs, the probable return of goods or the continuing management involvement with the goods.

Interest income is recognized on a time proportion basis that reflects the effective yield on the asset.

Other income is recognized as income on an accrual basis.

Repair and Maintenance

Expenditures on repair and maintenance are charged to expense at the expenditures are incurred. Expenditures of a capital nature are added to the related plant and equipment.

Finance Lease

Leases in terms of which the Company substantially assumes all the risk and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Equipment and vehicles acquired by way of finance leases are capitalized at the lower of its fair value and the present value of the minimum lease payments at the inception of the lease, less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Lease payments are apportioned between the finance charges and reduction of the lease liability so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Finance charges are charged directly to the statement of comprehensive income.

Operating Lease

Leases of assets under which all the risks and rewards of ownership are effectively retained by the lessor are classified as operating leases. Lease payments under an operating lease are recognized as an expense in the statement of comprehensive income on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Finance Costs

Interest expenses and similar costs are charged to the statement of comprehensive income for the period in which they are incurred, except to the extent that they are capitalized as being directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset which necessarily takes a substantial period of time to be prepared for its intended use or sale. The interest component of finance lease payments is recognized in the statement of comprehensive income using the effective interest rate method.

Foreign Currency Transactions

Foreign currency transactions throughout the year are recorded in the accounts at the rates prevailing at the dates of transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies (except certain assets and liabilities in foreign currencies covered by forward exchange contracts) at the end of the years are translated into Baht at the prevailing rates at that date. Gains or losses from translations are credited or charged to the statements of comprehensive income. Assets and liabilities covered by forward exchange contracts are recorded at the forward contract rates. The difference between the current exchange rate (at the contract date) and the forward rate is deferred and amortized to the statement of comprehensive income by the straight-line method over the terms of the forward exchange contracts.

Receivables and payables arising from forward exchange contracts are translated into Baht at the rates of exchange ruling at the end of reporting period. Unrealized gains and losses from the translation are included in profit or loss for the year. Premiums or discounts on forward exchange contracts are amortized on a straight-line basis over the contract periods.

Income Taxes

The income tax charge is based on profit for the period and considers deferred taxation. Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effects of temporary differences between the tax basis of an asset or liability and its carrying amount in the statement of financial position. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the periods in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The measurement of deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Branch expects, at the statement of financial position date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of their assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets are recognized when it is probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available against which the deferred tax assets can be utilized. At each statement of financial position date, the Company re-assesses unrecognized deferred tax assets. The Company recognizes a previously unrecognized deferred tax asset to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profit will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered. The Company conversely reduces the carrying amount of a deferred tax asset to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow the benefit of part or all of these deferred tax assets to be utilized.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax liabilities and assets, and they relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the same taxable entity, or on different tax entities, but they intend to settle current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis or their tax assets and liabilities will be realized simultaneously.

Deferred tax assets have not been recognized in respect of the following items:

Total	62,377	77,713
